Association of Law Firm Diversity Professionals (ALFDP) Collaboration Work Group Update

Our first NALP/ALFDP joint webinar entitled “Law School & Law Firm Collaboration: Best Practices for Recruiting and Retaining Diverse Attorneys” was held on Wednesday, October 27, 2010, and it was a huge success. Over 80 participants tuned into the program coordinated by Vice Chair Rachel Simmonds-Watson and presented by Audra Wilson, the Director of Diversity Education & Outreach for Northwestern University Law School. We look forward to future joint NALP/ALFDP programs in 2011. Stay tuned!
Diversity Leadership: The Retention/Inclusion Imperative Workgroup Update

The work group is currently fine tuning the collection of diversity leader profiles and the goal is to present the collection to the NALP office by early March. Many thanks to the following work group members for their efforts and dedication to this initiative: Vice Chairs Melanie Priddy and Denise Robinson, Millie Bond, Chia Kang, Eliza Park Musallam, Kisha Nunez, and Susan Piotrowski. As a reminder, members of last year’s work group interviewed diverse attorneys and legal professionals, celebrating their leadership and accomplishments.

Environmental Scanning

During our most recent section conference call, we briefly discussed the outcome of the 2010 fall recruiting season and its affects on diversity, and I’m happy to report that some firms shared that their diversity recruitment efforts were not adversely affected by the current economic climate. One section member commented that so far this season the New York City Bar Association’s 1L Diversity Summer Internship program has noticed an increase of employer participants.

On the same call, section members shared a number of diversity-related events taking place over the next couple of months, many geared towards diverse first-year law school students, and one specifically geared towards GLBT law students and associates. The GLBT Section, in collaboration with LeGal, is launching a mentoring program in the New York City metropolitan area. Section members also discussed how law schools should handle military interviews this semester in light of the recent repeal of “Don’t Ask, Don’t Tell.”
